

ANZAMEMS 2022 CONFERENCE ON RECEPTION AND EMOTION

CFP - PANEL ON EMOTIONS AND HEALTH IN SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA AND RELATED FIELDS

We invite scholarly proposals for papers on emotions and health in Shakespearean drama and related fields, as part of a panel or panels being established at ANZAMEMS 2022. The link to the main website and call for papers is here: <https://www.anzamems2021.com/>

The panel(s) will examine the topics of health, wellbeing, and emotions in Shakespearean drama and related fields and/or its reception today. In particular we welcome papers broadly relating to the discipline of health humanities. Papers should be set within the broader topic of the overall conference, and deal with questions of reception and/or emotion.

Papers might consider but are not limited to:

- The role of emotions in early modern health and drama and literature
- Well-being and emotional health in early modern drama and literature
- Illness and its expression in early modern drama and literature
- Ideas of emotional resilience and their reception today
- Social and cultural concepts of health in early modern drama and the modern inheritances
- Social and cultural constructs of well-being and illness in early modern drama and/or their modern inheritances
- Metaphors of health, well-being, and illness in early modern drama and/or their reception today
- The relationship between human health and the environment/ecology
- The body, ideas relating to the body, the performative body, and embodiment in Shakespeare and related fields
- Inheritances of those ideas of the body, the performative body, and embodiment in Shakespeare and related fields

We invite submissions for 15 minute presentations, which will be followed by 30 minutes of Q&A on the themes raised by all speakers on the panel. If you are interested in presenting your work, please send any questions, or otherwise the title, a 200 word abstract and a 50 word biography to Dr Bríd Phillips at brid.phillips@uwa.edu.au and Dr Claire Hansen at claire.hansen3@jcu.edu.au.

Deadline for Panel Submissions: 8 November 2021

The panel(s) will be held as part of the biennial conference of the Australian and New Zealand Association for Medieval and Early Modern Studies, at the The University of Western Australia, Perth, 27 June to 1 July, 2022.
